

Dear Story Pirates,

Just a quick note to say what a tremendous impression your innovative and ground-breaking production had on my first grade daughter Tatia. She first saw the Story Pirates perform in her school auditorium at PS 321 in Brooklyn and could not wait for even one Saturday to go by before her dad and I took her to see you again. Apparently, all the kids were acting out the skits at recess and thinking up their own stories to share. Two minutes into the show, we knew what the kid was talking about. We all laughed ourselves under the seats. The Story Pirates are like Saturday night Live for kids! Instead of talking down to kids like most hammy kid-oriented performers do, the humor that the story pirates tap into has no age limit. Thank you for bringing out the author in our child. Thank you for listening to all the kids out there, for recognizing the power, importance, and funny truths that their stories have to offer and for helping them to see it too. You guys rock!"

— Karen & Fraser & especially TATIA Breshahan

*Reprinted with Permission